1. In late September 1950, Unit  under the command of Colonel Hamitov (fnu), and stationed at the Perleberg airfield, was granted an additional sum of 13,192.50 DM East for improvement of the clubhouse. * The clubhouse was to be completed by late December 1950.
2. On 20 October it was rumored in Perleberg that the airfield was to be occupied by jet aircraft and that improvement work was already started on the runway. ** Only Soviet Army motor vehicles were seen entering and leaving the field.
3. On 25 October  surveying work was being done at the field by a group of engineers, and that it was planned to expand the field considerably and to construct a long concrete runway.
4. Since 19 October, part of the barracks buildings at the field have been occupied by soldiers wearing black, red-bordered black, and crimson epaulets. The landing field was not released as pasture land after 15 October. The road leading along the southern edge of the field to the forester's house Alte Eiche was blocked to all through-traffic after 20 October. The kitchen at the field was not in operation prior to 26 October. Three field kitchens were used to cook the food for the units stationed at the field. The scheduled improvement work had not yet started. Only Soviet Army motor vehicles were seen entering and leaving the field.

*  Comment.
No air force unit is stationed at the field.

*** [redacted] Comment. Rumors of intended improvement at the field were previously reported [redacted]
They are now confirmed [redacted] To date, no [redacted] [redacted] surveying or construction work started at the field. It is therefore still uncertain whether the field is actually to be improved. If the information proves to be correct Parleberg would be the fifth air field at which expansion work is now being done. The four other fields are Merseburg, Erfurt-Hindersleben, Puetnitz, and Werneuchen.
